Thursday 5th December 2024
1.00—3.00pm
Online Live Webinar

This course will explore the use of key visuals as a highly effective way of supporting the speaking, listening, reading and writing skills of your EAL pupils as well as the rest of the class. We will examine in detail the ways in which key visuals can develop understanding in reading and also serve as an important bridge to help pupils move from writing the way they talk (everyday informal talk) to writing as a subject expert (academic writing).

Participants will explore how they can use key visuals to:

- organise pupil talk as a preparation for writing
- support writing both at sentence and text level across subjects
- develop understanding of content
- express complex concepts in a clear, logical way for different purposes and audiences.

Suitable for all teachers and support staff from KS1 – 4

Cost: Individuals £60 + VAT
- only 20 places available
